

I recently had a meeting with The Honourable Kaycee Madu and the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce where we discussed the future of Senior Care in Alberta and how private operators should be a big part of the solution. As we have recently witnessed in other jurisdictions, the antiquated government model of long-term care and housing has failed our vulnerable seniors. Now is the time for transformational change of senior care. While I applaud that Provincial Governments want to act to make government funded institutionalized care better; the infrastructure that is in place in those facilities cannot be changed and therefore will never lead to optimum senior care.
